

20,000 WOMEN FLOCKING HERE FOR CLUB CONVENTION

Hotels Overflowing With Delegates From All Over the United States.

ASTOR HEADQUARTERS.

Seventh Regiment Armory for the Sessions Which Begin Wednesday Evening.

All day to-day and all to-morrow trainloads of women will arrive in the city from every quarter of the United States, and sooner or later will reach the Hotel Astor for registration either

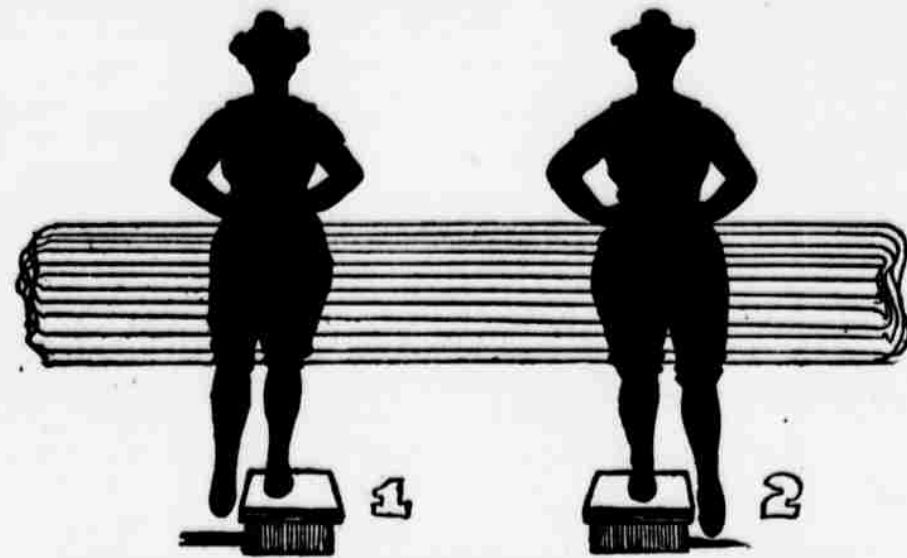

It is a pleasure to see middle age with serviceable teeth. Perhaps it was the coarse, hard food of early life, the plentiful fruit with its cleansing acids that built up the bony structures. Later, intelligent care; brushing them two or three times a day; regular visits to the dentist.

Your dentist is interested in the dentifrice you use. He would like to have you try at least one tube of Albodon to see for yourself how much better it cleans. It contains the highest percentage of actual cleansing and polishing properties of any dentifrice on the market. It is sufficiently but safely antiseptic. It is a cream, not a paste. It does not melt or harden. It has no grit. It is not colored. Try it to-day.

Albodon can be had at 25 cents a liberal tube wherever toilet articles are sold, and a free sample can be had by sending your name and address to The Albodon Company, Dept. B, 154 West 18th Street, N. Y. A postal will do.

delegates or alternate to the Thirtieth Biennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which opens at 8:30 o'clock on Wednesday night in the Seventh Regiment Armory.

There were thousands of women at the hotel to-day and they made long lines at the registration tables, then moved on in almost unbroken ranks to the stations where various Chairwomen told them where to go and what to do until the time for the convention itself.

The Board of Directors of the convention met at 10 o'clock and had a closed door discussion of the plans of the convention and later gave out the official programme of the great meeting, which more than 20,000 women are expected to attend. According to present information, at least 15,000 delegates will be in their places when Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin, Tex., and Mrs. William Grant Brown of New York, as jointly presiding officers, call the convention to order.

Delegations to the convention, with their alternates, arrived to-day from Indiana, Arkansas, California, Washington, Texas, Illinois, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Utah, Minnesota, Mississippi, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee and Florida. At 10 o'clock to-night a special train in three sections will arrive on the Lehigh Valley, bringing a great Western delegation.

The State Presidents of the Federation in many cases have preceded their delegations by several days and are now quartered in the city hotels. The work of finding rooms for all the delegates has been a monumental task, the committee in charge of it says, but everybody will be placed by to-morrow night.

The three chief figures in the convention are Mrs. Pennybacker, the President of the General Federation, and Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath of Tiffin, O., and Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles of Los Angeles, Cal.; and the chief question concerning them is whether Mrs. Sneath or Mrs. Cowles is to succeed Mrs. Pennybacker in her high office, which she has held for two terms. A high grade of politics is being played in the Federation in behalf of each of the candidates.

Among the State Presidents who have arrived in this city are: Mrs. C. H. Zimmerman of Illinois, Mrs. Robert E. Smith of Vermont, Mrs. George Winslow Perkins of Massachusetts, Mrs. Jas. Fullerton Hooper of Alabama, Mrs. James B. Bolton of Connecticut, Mrs. Court F. Wood of the District of Columbia, Mrs. Wm. S. Jennings of Florida, Mrs. Clark Fairbank of Indiana, Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick of Georgia, Mrs. Henry A. Wing of Maine, Mrs. Joseph G. Cochran of West Virginia, Mrs. Helen M. Cummings of Virginia, Mrs. George W. Denney of Tennessee, Mrs. William N. Congdon of Rhode Island, Mrs. George Zimmerman of Ohio, Mrs. Thomas W. Lingle of North Carolina and Mrs. Albert H. Hildreth of New York.

Although the official matters on to-day's programme comprised only the directors' meeting, with a luncheon at the Astor following it, the receiving of credentials of delegates and alternates and the complimentary dinner to-night at the same hotel to eleven department chairmen by the Local Executive Board, the day itself was a full and busy one for every one.

The moment one gets away from the lobby of the Astor—and even there one will find more women than men—it seems that the entire main floor of the hotel has been taken possession of by the women folk of the country. And every mother's daughter is decorated with from three to six ribbons, telling exactly who she is, where she comes from and what her present duties are. In the two north and south corridors countless small tables have been set up, each with a very capable, very busy woman back of it to answer questions, to take down names, to make suggestions and to tell the sisters the how, when and where of New York, for this is the first visit to the big city that many of the delegates have ever made.

In the rose ballroom, on the south side of the hotel, the delegates and their alternates had a registration place, the guests having a similar room off the north corridor. The stairs on the mezzanine floor the Press Committee had its stronghold, fortified with piles of programmes, literature and information.

The entertainment of the delegates does not properly begin until to-morrow. The programme consists of free admission to moving pictures at the Radio Theatre, a luncheon at the Essex County Country Club, East Orange, N. J., to the General Federation Board, the State Presidents and the Local Board; a reception by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison at their home, Llewellyn Park, West Orange; a dramatic evening at the Astor, and then rest after a long and diversified day.

The May Manton Fashions

THERE is no frock more fashionable than the one that combines striped material with plain. This dress gives not alone that feature, it also is most attractive in style and in cut. The skirt is a simple straight one, plaited and joined to the blouse, but the pleum that is cut in sections gives the entire costume a distinctive air. Here, that pleum is made of the striped material laid on the cross and the stripes are singularly effective treated in that way, but this is a model that can be used for cotton material, for linen material or for silk material. For the mornings at the summer resort, striped linen or striped cotton gabardine combined with plain makes a charming frock. For the afternoon dress, it would be pretty to use taffeta with the collar and cuffs of organdy and the taffeta could be of a dark and useful color or of a light and dainty color as occasion requires. If the stripes are not liked and a frock of washable material is wanted, linen could be used throughout, white with colored trimming or colored with white trimming. Blue or rose color would be charming with white collar and cuffs scalloped with color and with the tabs and belt finished in the same way. Needle work makes the smartest of all trimmings this season and the scallops represent very little labor, yet they are always effective.

For the 12-year size will be needed 2 1/2 yards of material 36 inches wide or 1 1/2 yards 44 for the blouse, 2 yards 36 or 44 for the skirt and trimming, or 4 1/2 yards 36 or 3 1/2 yards 44 to make of one material. The pattern, No. 2084, is cut in sizes for girls from 8 to 14 years of age.

No. 2084—(With Basling Line and Added Seam Allowance.) Girl's Dress, 8 to 14 years.
